

Muhtelif

A MUSICAL EAST-MEDITERRANEAN JOURNEY

BIO

Founded in 2015 in Istanbul, now based in Berlin, the band performs a wide range of music in Turkish, Greek, Arabic and Armenian from traditional to popular, 70s to present. “muhtelif” which is an Arabic word originally used to mean “discordant, fluxional” in Turkish, then turned out to be used as “various” in time. True to this name, the band builds its repertoire out of the songs seemingly “discordant and fluxional” so to emphasize the musical concord of different languages and cultures of Anatolia and the Eastern Mediterranean.

Muhtelif is formed by six versatile musicians each of whom has multiple projects of different genres which becomes a fine contribution to the cultural blend and the musical narrative the band attempts to pursue.

Nurcin Ileri (TR / voice)
Sevda Hamzacebi (TR / clarinet)
Penelope Gkika (GR / violin)
Cem Dinler (TR / piano)
Wataru Saito (JP / double bass)
Can Tufekcioglu (TR / drums)

MUSIC

Muhtelif released their first original song in 2017 with a unique music video featuring the band members wearing paper masks designed by visual artist Seda Mit. The song is directly referring to Kafka's famous character Gregor Samsa from Metamorphosis and the video depicts an allegory of today's modern life of white-collar worker.

Having released a genre-bending piece, the band strives to bring the same mindset of fusing Eastern and Western melodies through traditional and contemporary forms to their live performances. Each concert is a unique experience for the audience, where musicians become storytellers, telling the stories of past performers as well as the social and historical context of songs and their meaning.
